

Aladdin

By Robert Reed
www.artdramascripts.com

Copyright © 2010 Robert Reed All Rights Reserved

All rights to these play excerpts are strictly reserved by Robert Reed. These play excerpts are provided solely for reading online at www.artdramascripts.com. Specifically but not exclusively, without the permission of the author the script or any part of it MAY NOT be printed, redistributed, copied, adapted, translated or otherwise transferred into any form; MAY NOT be performed or read out in public; MAY NOT be used for creation of audio, video or content in any other format; MAY NOT be used for lecturing or workshops.

To purchase the rights, please visit <http://artdramascripts.com/youth/aladdin>.

ALADDIN'S MOTHER: Listen, we barely have enough to eat despite the fact I work all hours of the day and night. It's time you pulled your weight around here: you need to get a job!

ALADDIN: NO! I mean, Yes! I have not been wasting the last three years idly mother.

ALADDIN'S MOTHER: Ten years.

ALADDIN: Exactly, thank you. I have been perfecting my skills to earn us a fortune: no more washing, cleaning and sewing for you any more. We'll be able to hire servants, live in a magnificent palace and ...

ALADDIN'S MOTHER: And, how exactly will you earn this amazing wealth? Hanging out in the market with your friends all day?

...